The Mentality

The biggest secret men who are successful in anything they do is that they think and believe that they are better than everyone, their arrogance is to a maximum level behind closed doors in isolation, showing a different side to the world. Confidence in anything comes from the man that can show himself the confidence and relentlessness in private and isolation. It is a self hallucination of seeing the absolute best version of yourself and seeing no one else above you except the almighty. The ability to emanate excruciating yelling self confidence in a calm manner, men with this ability see themselves as something divine, important, and rare class of person only showing themselves in private how great they are. Any successful man that goes on a odyssey that is insane to the world hides his narcissism and ego from the rest of the world. This through out time builds up to a point where you believe in yourself that you can do absolutely anything and nothing in this world can stop you.

The successful man is always humble and easy to approach he looks like a regular person. But he has two sides to him the humble man is what you get in public but he can switch in a instant and his mindset changes from humble to extreme charisma and heightened ego and accumulating narcissism. This mentality, "The Reapers Mentality" is probably the most important trait any successful man needs in order to be able to do anything he wants to achieve. This mentality must be controlled, this great mental narcissistic mind makes people around feel very insecure about themselves or intimidated and your energy, stance, the way you dress, physical body type, the way you speak, etc can lower someones self esteem, confidence, and weakens them. People will start attacking successful men like this when they see that you are better than them in every possible way.

People see you as a threat, men will not want you around their girlfriends or wives because they see you as an alpha and think of what can happen if you get close to their partners, men and mostly women will be nervous to talk to you because they have never seen anything like you and they don't want to look like fools conversing with you, women easily are attracted to men that give off alpha energy in the room and getting women as a man with this type of mentality becomes easier then ever. Men like this will always be successful because of their believe in themselves, knowing there smarter, better, more important, faster, than anyone except god. Without this mental trait you will always be an average man and will never accomplish the harder things in life. I wouldn't be able to accomplish anything if i didn't not cultivate this mentality, you have to see everyone as beneath you, no one is better than you, you can get anything you want, any women you want, you can accomplish anything you want, all of this is done in private to yourself to prove to yourself that you are a male like no other, and in public you are humble and regular but the effects of this mentality are shown in time with achievements and they way you change as a person. Losing will not be an option for you, you will build the mind that is resistant to being a loser.

This will lead to downfalls in your time you will fail, but your mental state will not let you stay in a losing state, you will always take the bigger risk and show to the world that you are nothing like them and you are will always be better than all of them. You will start a journey and you will be hit with extreme hard times, but you know that you are better, most people give up when it gets hard but not you. You will see it all they way through and build what ever it is into the biggest empire the world will ever see by staying confident in any situation your put in. This is how you show your alpha mentality by proving to the world through achievements. You must enjoy seeing the enemy tremble and stepping on the throat of the enemy and not letting go. I share this to help men and women who want to get to this level, but remember I also share it to put a fear in people too. Your going against people like me who never quit, nor stop. This is "The Reapers Mentality" now put it to use and become something you never thought possible.
